GENERAL TRADE NOTES. The American Banker states that a counterfeit $10 bill of the series of 1887 lately made its appearance in New York. The bill was much soiled and badly frayed at the edges. On counterfeits of this issue the words "for ten," in the sentence, "This note is a legal tender for ten dollars," are so close together as to look like one word. In this specimen the paper has been ingeniously torn so as to conceal this blunder. In the word "this," on the back, the "h" and "i" are run together and look like an "m." The check letter on this bill is C.

Private advices state that the deficiency the French wheat crop has already led to neavy purchases of wheat on the Pacific coast for direct export to France.

A reduced crop of honey is expected in California. There are not half so many bees in southern California as there were six years ago and the supply of sage and other honey furnishing shrubs has been diminished t least 50 per cent by the clearing up of land.

Reports from 1.343 correspondents, cover ing the fruit-growing regions of New England, New York and Michigan, show an enormous yield of grapes in all sections, a remarkably short crop of pears of all varieties, a curtailed crop of plums and a full crop of peaches in Delaware, Michigan and other ections where commercially grown, with a limited production in the peach orchards of southern New England. High prices are considered positively certain for pears and plums, with medium values for grapes and peaches, but grapes held for the winter mar-ket will doubtless command comparatively fancy prices. The apple crop is, on the whole, considerably less than "even year" production two years ago, owing to drouth in some sections, cold weather at the time of olooming, and premature dropping of the Coffee is more active, prices ruling weak. Good Rio is not overplenty and commands a premium. The following important intelli-gence is contained in the Rio News of a late We hear complaints as to the un sightly appearance of the greater part of the coffees coming to market, but are also informed that it furnishes very good 'roasted, and, as the trade is now principally conducted by roasters, it appears to us that appearance s of less importance now than specific Rice is selling freely, but the supply of donestic rice is short, and three large steamers ave recently arrived at New York laden with rice from Japan. This year the amount of rice imported into the United States, especially from Japan, is unusually large. The Glenshiel, the first tea ship via Suez canal, has arrived after a passage of forty-five days from Amoy. She brought a cargo of 1,653,000 lbs tea, Oolongs and Japans, of which about one third the former and one-half the latter have been sold previous to arrival by overland samples.

This makes the new rate to Buffalo $2.25 per ton and to Chicago $4.50 per ton. These revised tariffs will go into effect on September 1, and the usual ten days' notice will be issued to the trade. CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 18 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Some of the steam was let off to-day and the wheat market ruled easier. The opening range was 14@14c below yesterday's, closing range September starting off at 840 and December at 87c. September worked down to 83%c and December to 86%c. This represented a shrinkage of 1c compared with vesterday's last prices. The little longs unloaded on a slow market and bearish room traders helped prices down. Hutchinson was by large odds, the heaviest individual buyer to-day as he was yesterday. Most cables quoted fine weather abroad and some of them had easier markets and buyers holding off. ters mentioned, as also for the preceding week, as compiled by the Cincinnati Price One represented the recent estimates of crop damage as absurd. general principles, and it takes a mass of evidence to convince them. The free move-ment of wheat from primary markets keeps up, and the failure to find an outlet for grain at the seaboard is resulting in the accumulation of the property at eastern points. This pressure may be relieved in the near future. September opened at 84c, ranged at 83%@ 84% c and closed at 84% c. December opened at 87c, ranged at 86% @87c, and closed at 86% c. The volume of trading was not large. The corn market was very dull. The little bulls and little bears are doing next to nothing, and the big longs and big shorts are resting to extend their risks and neither side being willing to abandon the position taken. The market to-day was nervous though slow and and in a condition to advance sharply had any attempt been made to buy largely or to have declined quickly on signs of a disposition to sell. It was not a good market to either buy or sell on. Fluctuations were within 1/4c limits, prices never going over yesterday's last range, but closings show only a small shrinkage as compared with yesterday. September ranged at 44%@44%c and October at 44%@44%c.

Oats shared in the general quietude to-day, and price changes were few and unimportant in all futures. Cash and seller the month were easier, while futures beyond September were in fair request and firm, with May rul-ing to higher. Cash buyers demanded small commissions on No. 2 in store, which sold 4c lower at 254c, with seller August about steady. There was an absence of any special speculative interest, and the market was at times very dull.

In provisions there was another recovery from the Yellow Jack uneasiness. Advices from the infected portion of Florida were again encouraging, and in its movement the trade was controlled more by ordinary influ-ences than for over a week. Light receipts of hogs, an advance of 5@10c in the same and a better disposition upon the part of cash buyers of product to take hold, strengthened the long side of the market. The opening was a little timid, at least in pork, but as the day advanced a strong feeling was mani-fested all around. Higher prices were the rule, and as compared with yesterday's final quotations, pork at 1 o'clock rested at an im-provement of 1756c, lard of 256c, and short

A Material Improvement Witnessed in All Lines.

A BETTER DEMAND FOR MONEY.

New York Stocks Dull, With a Sharp Decline in Burlington-Speculation in Produce Exhibits Marked Activity.

Picked Up. Caicago, August 18.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE. -The week has witnessed a material improvement in general trade, and increased preparations have been made for enlarged transactions in nearly all directions. The result of such movements has been to increase the demand for discounts at the banks, and, although tardy movement of wheat from the interior and the fact that shipments at nearly all points were so close up to the arrivals as to prevent the accumulation of stocks and accordingly lessen the demand for money with which to carry wheat, the offerings of other paper were sufficiently heavy to give discount institutions employment for about all their loanable funds, and rates have ruled firm. A few large institutions are still advancing on fancy names and collaterals at 5 per cent, but the majority ask 514606 per cent. Good business names usually pay 614@7 per cent, and just fair signatures 7100es per cent. New York exchange and sterling bills on London have been weak and the former closes 70@75c discount per $1,000 between banks, and doc amentary sterling at $4.83@4.8339. Money is not going to the country with the freedom observed at this time in former years and will not do so until the grain crops move more freely than they are now doing. There is a disposition in some quarters to create the impression that the money market will become uncomfortably tight during the fall and rates rule materially higher than those now current, but neither the business outlook nor the volume of money in circulation justify such conditions nor will high rates become possible unless there is an unlooked-for increase in speculation and the corresponding inflation of prices occurred. The fact that the secretary of the treasury is likely to buy $40,000,000 in sink-ing fund bonds and will disburse that amount of money in case the situation justifies it is also a guarantee against high rates. Jobbers report an improving demand for goods from ie interior and collections on maturing bills very satisfactory.

The New York stock market was duller. nd the evidence that the public are out of the market and that professionals are boom-ing it to get in a fresh supply of lambs to shear them is more conclusive than at any previous time in weeks, efforts have been made efforts have been made to advance "conlers" by reports of a hardening tendency and a 5@10c advance in rates for coal and the large demand and steadily growing tonnage of coal roads. But despite all these alluring features the market showed tendency to drag, and although there were frequently small spurts they proved only temporary. Crop news from the west was not of a character to inspire confidence in higher prices in "granger" stocks, and they were the weakest on the list, and by their persistent dragging caused frequent shows persistent dragging caused frequent slumps in general market. The "Longs" who had previously loaded up in expectation of a decided boom, became suspicious and unloaded, and during the closing days the market was well filled with stock bought, in some instances at higher prices, and it was easier to buy than to sell all leading securities. The "Grangers" recorded the largest decline and were led by Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, which decreased its dividend to 1 per cent. This is a heavy come down for a company that has stood at the head of the western roads for years as the largest grain carrier and one of the best dividend payer. The carnings are fair but a great army of investors want to see them materially increased be fore they take hold for permanent invest-ment. The market closed comparatively easy. The aggregate sales for the week on the New York stock exchange were 955,371

Trading in speculative circles was more in teresting the past week, and although the volume falled to show a perceptible increase it was slightly larger than the preceeding week. Outside orders, while not so abundant as the commission houses would like to see, were on a fairly liberal scale and were as good as can be expected under the present unsettled circumstances as this is a period of the year when speculators generally rest preparatory to beginning the active fall and winter campaign. The movement of grain at all the leading western points has been larger and shipments on an equally lib-eral scale. Continued wet, unseasonable weather in many sections has not been favorable for harvesting and the reports of dam-age to small grain have been numerous, and the quality of new grain being marketed shows no improvements. The reports from abroad are highly encouraging to the "bulls," crops in the United Kingdom and the leadin consuming countries on the continent being sadly deficient. This means that they will want more of our surplus. Export purchases were on a larger scale and shipments from this city and the leading seaboard ports show a good increase. Early in the week prices were slightly depressed, but later a sharp rally occurred that carried prices up more rapidly than they had declined. Reports of an increased number of cases of yel ports of an increased number of cases of yel-low fever in the south materially depressed the market for provisions by causing a gen-eral realizing and also checked the consump-tion demand from those sections. The ar-rivals of hogs at all western points were small and the quality poor, causing a decided decrease in packing in the west compared with the same time last year.

RELIGIOUS.

The fatigue of public worship is a subject of discussion in the British medical press. There are 266 city missionaries in New York city alone, who make daily visits among the poor and sick of all denominations. Topeka, Kas., has more churches than any city of its size in the country, and has not a single saloon or drinking place.

New York city alone spends $7,000,000 a year for amusements and only $3,000,000 a year for churches. In the country at large we spend $000,000,000 a year for strong drink and only $5,500,000 for home and foreign The Young Men's Christian association of Cincinnations begun the crection of a new and elegant hall, the cost of which will be $150,000. This will be the centennial gift, in memory of the organization of the north-western territory, of this association to the cause of christianity. At Macdonough, Ga., the negro church was blown down, and when seven to ten thousand of them came thither to a district conference, the whites flung wide the doors and pulpits of their churches, and many of them went and heard good sermons and sing-ing that was simply glorious from black preachers and choristers. It is not generally known that there is prayer meeting in connection with the Brit-ish house of commons. In the room of Col. Legge, the deputy assistant sergeant-at-arms, within the precincts of the house, a prayer meeting is held weekly during the time the house is in session. No similar service is held in connection with the house Miss Martha A. McConnell was elected deacon in the McKeesport (Pa.)
